Letter of Recommendation
Re: Capitol Security

In 2004, our company required the services of a security company. We are an autobody repair facility. We were in the process of building a new facility but in the meantime, we had to keep our cars outside at night and needed someone to guard them. Capitol Security served that purpose for us. We actually used their services for about a year. For a few months they checked our business 3 times a night. After that, they worked on site every night. We were able to go home at night and know that our clients' cars and our business were safe.

Capitol Security offered responsible and experienced security officers. They responded to all security calls. Our schedule was their schedule; if we had a holiday, they were there for us.

Our new facility has much better security than the old one. However, I would not hesitate to use Capitol Security again. They are a company that can be counted on to take care of any security needs in the most professional manner.

Please feel free to call me with any questions.
